Information and Communication Technology Research

UMR Research, on behalf of Ministry of Health (Ministry) and Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) are conducting a quantitative survey of health professionals on the use of information and communications technology (ICT) in the Health and Disability Sector.

The purpose of the research is to provide information to ensure that ICT changes and initiatives are targeted to provide maximum value to the New Zealand Health Sector. Findings will also be used to support the development of new ICT solutions for you, our health professionals.

You may be contacted over the next few months inviting you to take part in this survey. To ensure we receive input from as wide a cross section of health professionals as possible, and gain maximum benefit for the investment in this research, we encourage you to participate.
